Worlds 2006 Coaching and Selection Process - Update May

The next senior women's training camp will be June 18/19.

The invitation list for this camp is below.

Please note that this list does not include paddlers that have advised they wish to pull out of this process, either because they do not wish to go to the Worlds or wish to "go it alone".

These paddlers should be aware that this has been their decision. All women paddlers who wish to attend the Worlds, whether they attend this camp or not, will be selected as individuals (not teams) by the NKOA Women's Selection Committee. Unless the selectors have had the opportunity to see your individual ability you decrease your chances of selection, particularly if your team does not meet the qualifying time at the Labour weekend event. There may also still be further cuts following Labour weekend.

All squad members still on the list are expected to attend the June camp and to stay on site. Everyone is encouraged to arrive Friday evening, as we will be off to a very early start on Saturday.

A paanui on the June camp details will follow closer to the time and will call for confirmations on attendance and any dietary requirements. Anything that squad members need to know should be in the paanui. This will include the cost which is worked out on the basis of expected attendance and will include any administrative/support services, and accommodation.

As with the April camp, we will be fortunate to have the same professional input from Criss Strange to increase paddlers' knowledge of elite sport performance. We will also introduce paddlers to other training options.

As we will be making cuts from this June camp, all squad members must confirm their availability for our squad before they leave the June camp. It is not fair to paddlers that might otherwise make the cut if people try to sit on the fence.

We look forward to seeing all the invited squad members in June. If you have any
